Honorable Ms. Maite Nkoana-Mashabane, MP
Minister in The Presidency for Women, Youth and Persons with Disabilities

The Annual Performance Plan (APP) of the National Youth Development Agency (NYDA) was developed with the support of the Department of Women, Youth and Persons with Disabilities (DWYPD). It identifies the performance indicators and targets which the agency seeks to achieve during the period - 2021/22 financial year. It is important that these performance indicators and targets are aligned to the national priorities, given that the NYDA is a national public entity established for socio-economic empowerment of young people.

This 2021/22 APP gives expression to continuously accelerate service delivery improvement. The aim is to reach out to many young people, particularly marginalised groups like girls and young women, youth with disabilities, and youth residing in deep rural areas and townships. It is on that basis that, the NYDA linked its programmes to the Medium-Term Strategic Framework (MTSF) outcomes of decent employment through inclusive economic growth and that of nation building and social cohesion. The Economic Development, Skills Development and Education Programmes are aligned with employment and job creation, whilst the National Youth Service Programme is aligned to Skills Development as well as Nation building and Social cohesion.

The NYDA will accelerate service delivery to address persisting multiple and complex challenges affecting the general youth population. In light of the fact that the 2021/22 APP was developed against a backdrop of socio-economic and fiscal challenges exacerbated by the global COVID-19 pandemic, the Agency has rationalized its work and will, through its APP, have renewed focus towards youth development and empowerment. To respond to the unemployment crisis, focus would be on entrepreneurship development and support as well as coordination and implementation of the National Youth Service Programme across all sectors of society.

Furthermore, the DWYPD is supporting the NYDA's agenda of good corporate governance, hence the department is amending the NYDA Act, Act No.54 of 2008. The finalisation of this legislation will enhance its governance and make its mandate to be more focused on intensifying service delivery. This is crucial, in the context of sluggish economic growth, resources constraints, and poor outlook. Therefore, the NYDA needs to forge meaningful partnerships with government, civil society organisations, business organisations, and development partners, in the quest to achieve common objectives.

I am confident that, we are a resilient nation and therefore, have the courage and bravery to make it through this pandemic and the ensued challenges. Let us continue to rebuild a better South Africa by collectively reimagining and reconstructing our economy in order to meet the needs of our youth population.

ACCOUNTING OFFICER STATEMENT

The Covid-19 crisis has deepened the hardships experienced by the youth in South Africa who are already considered to be the most vulnerable in the South African labour market. Even before the current crisis, young people were the hardest hit by the economic slowdown. About 10,3 million, viz, 31.9% of young people aged 15–24 years in Q3: 2020, were not in employment, education, or training (NEET). The NEET rate for females was higher than that of their male counterparts in both years. This is an indication that the females' youth have been affected the most over the past 12 months. In the same breath, the percentage of young persons aged 15–34 years, their NEET rate increased from 40,4% to 43,0%, approximately 20,5 million in Q3: 2020.

South Africa's labour surveys have consistently shown the challenge of unacceptably high levels of unemployment compared to countries of similar economic size. This has persisted even during periods where economic indicators have shown that the country's economy was growing. Unemployment is magnified in the youth population, where it has remained high for a long time. Part of the reason is that the increase in the population of the working age group has not been matched by the expansion of job opportunities created by the economy.

This creates a large population of young people classified as the labour force who are unemployed for extended periods of time. The magnitude of the challenge is amplified when an expanded definition of unemployment, which includes "discouraged work seekers", is used. The phenomenon of unemployment can result in a variety of political and socio-economic challenges such as high crime rates, an underperforming economy, and political instability.

With the situation expected to worsen in the wake post Covid-19. Globally, the International Labour Organization (ILO) estimates that 24.7 million people could be unemployed because of the Covid-19 crisis. In South Africa, the Reserve Bank estimates that about 1.6 million jobs could be lost. Young persons, particularly women, already facing higher rates of unemployment and underemployment, are more vulnerable to falling labour demand.

The increase in unemployment as a result of COVID-19 is expected to exceed the rise in rates of unemployment in the aftermath of the 2009 global financial crisis. Based on the 2009 experience, without targeted policy intervention, it is likely that youth will again be disproportionately affected by a global recession, with a higher percentage of young people being unemployed compared to adults, and a slower uptake of employment by young people during the recovery.

Youth unemployment was already catastrophic before COVID-19 even existed, with South Africa having the worst youth employment rate in the world. As the state, it has an obligation to provide jobs if young people want to work and provide them with sustainable wages. In doing this, young people can gain experience and gain the skills needed to be formal participants in the economy.

The key focus areas to contribute to the achievement of the MTSF 2019-2024 priorities, the NYDA should continue to:

- Support the Economic Recovery Plan of Government as we rebuild a fairer post Covid-19 economy.
- Implement the Presidential Youth Employment Intervention, a key agenda item of the sixth administration.

- Develop and monitor the Integrated Youth Development Strategy to better coordinate youth development efforts across the three spheres of government, the private sector and civil society.
- Support the amendment of the NYDA Act to build a stronger youth development institution.
- Innovate to transition youth development to a modern-day economy.

The NYDA will use its positioning as an overarching government structure for youth development to lobby and advocate for the necessary change to meaningfully transform this generation and future generations of young people.

PART A: OUR MANDATE

The National Youth Development Agency derives its mandate from the NYDA Act (54 of 2008). Section 3 of the Act mandates the Agency to develop policy and an “Integrated Youth Development Strategy”. The Act further mandates the NYDA to “initiate, design, coordinate, evaluate and monitor all programmes aimed at integrating the youth into the economy and society, guide efforts and facilitate economic participation and empowerment, and the achievement of education and training”. In short, the role of the NYDA can be summarized as follows:

- Lobby and advocate for integration and mainstreaming of youth development programmes in all spheres of government, the private sector and civil society.
- Initiate, implement, facilitate and coordinate youth development programmes.
- Monitor and evaluate youth development interventions across the board and mobilize youth to actively participate in civil society engagements.

1.1 Constitutional mandate

The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa recognise the youth as citizen of the country who have the following rights: Human Dignity, Freedom of Association, Freedom of Trade, Occupation and Profession, Health Care, Food, Water and Social Security, Education and Access to Information. In recognizing the heroic struggles of generations of the youth to bring about freedom and democracy in South Africa and whereas the government must take reasonable measures, within its available resources to achieve progressive development of South Africa’s youth and whereas the interventions of youth development in South Africa must be implemented in a cohesive, seamless and integrated manner, therefore the spirit and form of the National Youth Development Agency.

1.2 Legislative and policy mandates

Whilst there is no legislation that inhibit youth development, consideration is being advanced for youth-biased policy reforms. The below listed, are legislative instruments, policies and strategic mandates that highlight where the National Youth Development Agency derives and drives its mandate from, with the aim of ensuring that it aligns and falls within the parameters of the legislative frameworks that regulates the affairs of the country.

Table 1: Legislative Framework and Other Mandates

Legislation	What it means
The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa (Act 108 of 1996)	The Constitution is the supreme law of the country that entrenches specific rights, responsibilities and ethos that everyone in South Africa must uphold. In the Bill of Rights, specific human rights are guaranteed, and these rights and responsibilities guide the inherent rights and responsibilities of everyone, including youth.
The National Development Plan (NDP 2030)	The NDP is a plan to unite South Africans, unleash the energies of its citizens, grow an inclusive economy, build capabilities, enhance the capability of the state and leaders working together to solve complex problems. The National Development Plan (NDP) offers a long-term perspective. It defines a desired destination and identifies the role different sectors of society need to play in reaching that goal. As a long-term strategic plan, it serves four broad objectives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Providing overarching goals for what we want to achieve by 2030. • Building consensus on the key obstacles for achieving these goals and what needs to be done to overcome those obstacles. • Providing a shared long-term strategic framework within which more detailed planning can take place to advance the long-term goals set out in the NDP. • Creating a basis for making choices about how best to use limited resources.
National Youth Policy (NYP 2030)	The NYP 2030 shares this vision built on the belief that South Africa has the potential and capacity to eliminate poverty and reduce inequality over the next two decades. This requires a new approach – one that moves away from passive citizenry towards a socially and economically included society in which people are active champions of their own development, supported by an effective government.

Preferential Procurement Policy Framework Act (2000)/ Preferential Procurement Regulation (2017)	Preferential procurement in South Africa is not only about proper financial management of public money, it also presents an opportunity for government to correct the socio-economic imbalances of the past by awarding government work to individuals disadvantaged by historical practices. The purpose of this act is to enhance the participation of Historically Disadvantaged Individuals (HDIs) and the Small, Medium and Micro Enterprises (SMMEs) in the public-sector procurement system. Procurement is regulated in the South African Constitution in the provisions dealing with general financial matters, imposing certain obligations on government entities to ensure the proper and responsible expenditure of public funds.
The New Growth Path (2011)	This emphasizes the need for the state to create jobs through: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Direct employment schemes. • Targeted subsidies. • Expansionary macro-economic package. • Supporting labour absorption activities. • Generate large-scale employment. • Creation of incentives and support mechanisms to encourage the private sector to invest in new ventures. • Extend existing operations and concentrating resources in areas that yield the most jobs will ensure the greatest impact.
Youth Employment Accord	The Accord sets out the joint commitment to priorities youth employment and skills development. It outlines the approach to youth employment as contained in the Accord is based on the common recognition by our social partners that more jobs need to be created to ensure that the total number of South Africans employed is significantly stepped up.
National Youth Development Agency (NYDA), Act Number 54 of 2008	NYDA's mandate is to initiate, design, coordinate, evaluate and monitor all programmes aimed at integrating the youth into the economy and society in general.
Public Finance Management Act, no 1 of 1999 as amended (PFMA)	The Public Finance Management Act (PFMA), 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999) is one of the most important pieces of legislation passed by the first democratic government in South Africa. The Act promotes the objective of good financial management to maximize service delivery through the effective and efficient use of the limited resources. The key objectives of the Act may be summarized as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Modernizing the system of financial management in the public sector. • Enabling public sector managers to manage, but at the same time be held more accountable. • Ensuring the timely provision of quality information; and • Eliminating the waste and corruption in the use of public assets.
Broad Based Black Economic Empowerment Act 53 of 2003	Promotes achievement of constitutional right to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Equality, • Increase in broad based and effective participation of black people in the economy, • Promote equal opportunity and equal access to government services.
Skills Development Act of 1998 (as Amended in 2010)	This emphasizes the state to promote the following amongst others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Improving the quality of life of workers, their prospects of work and labour mobility. • Improving productivity in the workplace and the competitiveness of employers. • Establishing the national Skills authority. • Establishing SETAs. • Improving self-empowerment. • Improving the delivery of social services.

Integrated Youth Development Strategy (IYDS 2023)	The IYDS is located within a rich legislative and policy framework, defined by the South African Constitution, (Act 108 Of 1996) as the supreme law of the country and guided by an internationally informed rights-based approach to growth and development. Following the adoption of the NYP 2030 government committed to come up with the strategy that will see the recommendations of the policy implemented. The Integrated Youth Development Strategy (IYDS) is that enabler. The IYDS is the Strategy to implementing the National Youth Policy 5 thematic areas: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Quality education, skills and second chances • Economic transformation, entrepreneurship and job creation • Physical and mental health promotion including mitigating against Covid 19 impact • Social cohesion and nation-building • Effective and responsive youth development machinery
White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities	The Implementation Matrix of the White Paper on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities will be reviewed during 2020/21 to strengthen alignment with the current MTSF as well as reconfiguration of government, and to respond to weaknesses in the implementation of the policy.

The charter highlights the importance of full participation of young women and men at every level of decision-making and development. It identifies the following principles and values for youth development: gender inclusivity, empowerment and social equity, human rights, and sustainability and integration or mainstreaming of youth issues across all levels of government.
Gender Based Violence Frameworks or Guidelines	Gender-based violence is a violation of human rights that affects adolescent girls and women in all their diversity. Violence undermines the HIV response by creating a barrier to accessing HIV services. Adolescent girls and young women in all their diversity—especially those living with and affected by HIV—continue to experience multiple layers of stigma, discrimination, exclusion and gender-based violence, resulting in negative health and rights outcomes. Stigma, discrimination and violence based on age, gender and sex must be stopped.
SGD Framework	A tool was developed to help governments and other stakeholders to create and choose ambitious and effective sustainable development goals (SDGs) and targets, which fulfil the commitments made by world leaders at Rio+20. SDGs-Tests-of-success-cover200 The ‘Tests of Success for the SDGs’, produced by Stakeholder Forum for a Sustainable Future and partners, aims to help guide and assess the international process currently underway to create a new set of global goals to eradicate poverty through sustainable development. The tool also provides an accountability instrument for stakeholders to use in assessing the progress made in designing the SDGs, and with which to hold policymakers to account for the outcome.

PART B: OUR STRATEGIC FOCUS

2.1 NYDA Mandate, Vision, Mission and Values

MANDATE

Creating and promoting coordination in youth development matters.

Vision	Mission	Values
A credible, capable and activist development Agency that is responsive to the plight of South Africa's youth.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> To Mainstream youth issues into society and To Facilitate youth development with all sectors of society. 	Our shared values articulate what we stand for, what we value as an organization and inform how we interact with our valuable stakeholders especially young people. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Accountability Respect Professionalism Integrity

2.2 Presidential Initiative for Youth Employment

Presidential Youth Employment Intervention is designed to transition transition young people along multiple pathways into the economy and to make government's support for young people more visible and effective by:

- Accelerating delivery by coordinating and streamlining government's response to youth unemployment
- Allow firms to expand and employ more young people
- Address the current cohort of young people that remains unemployed

To achieve these imperatives, the following table with 5 key interventions will be implemented and prioritized with a view to maximizing the impact of the different initiatives already underway.

- 1. Pathway Management Network: to view and access available learning and work opportunities, and providing a range of support services.
- 2. Workforce Solutions for Growing Jobs: Implementing demand-led skills development programmes that allows 500 000 young people to develop the capabilities in growth sectors.
- 3. Enabled Youth Self-employment and Township Enterprise: stimulate economic activity in marginalised communities.
- 4. Workplace-Based Experience: Providing opportunities for workplace experience through the Youth Employment Service.
- 5. Opportunity to do Service: Expanding a Presidential Youth Service to provide 250 000 young people over five years with publicly funded opportunities to engage in service.

2.3 National Youth Policy (NYP 2030) Lens

The National Youth Policy (NYP) is developed for all young people in South Africa, with a focus on redressing the wrongs of the past and addressing the specific challenges and immediate needs of the country's youth. The NYP 2020 seeks to create an environment that enables the young people of South Africa to reach their potential. The policies, mindful of the global economic challenges that affect South Africa, identifies the mechanisms and interventions that will act as catalysts to help clear critical blockages and achieve this positive environment. The desired outcome is empowered young people who are able to realise their full potential and understand their roles and responsibilities in making a meaningful contribution to the development of a non-racial, equal, democratic and prosperous South Africa.

The NYDA planned performance over the next five years is focused on providing a comprehensive suite of interventions that leads to decent employment, skills development, education, and entrepreneurship for all young people in the age group 14 to 35. These outcome areas focus on fostering a mainstreamed, evidence based, integrated and result oriented youth development approach, through and monitoring and evaluation services, lobby and advocacy to bring on board key stakeholders to implement youth development programmes. The NYDA must implement and coordinate interventions aligned to the MTSF Priorities and reviewed Policy 2020-2025.

2.4 Integrated Youth Development Strategy Lens

The Mandate of the NYDA as per the Act is to develop the Integrated Youth Development Strategy for South Africa, initiate, design, coordinate, evaluate and monitor all programmes. The Integrated Youth Development strategy will be developed as a strategic framework for coordinating government wide priorities born from the National Youth Policy 2030. The priorities will be identified from gaps, challenges and opportunities to ensure effective contribution of the National Development Plan 2030. The government wide priorities will include all youth development interventions.

The Integrated Youth Development Strategy should be understood in the context of the policy and legislative frameworks that have been developed in the country and regarding the youth. This has been further informed by the IYDS process of development, one which has been characterized by research, synthesis, engagement, consultation and finally consolidation championed by the Presidency.

In response to promoting co-ordination, the NYDA will consult with stakeholders, submit a report for approval. Going forward, the NYDA needs to ensure review, alignment and development in developing the strategy.

2.5 National Youth Service Lens

In response to coordination, the NYDA is engaging in partnerships with stakeholders from public, private and civil society to create institutional delivery mechanisms that support the effective coordination and implementation of National Youth Service Programmes across all sectors of society. This will position the NYSP as the single largest Youth Service Programme to coordinate delivery of 250 000 active participants in the next five years.

2.6 National Youth Development Agency Youth Lens

The NYDA continues to play a leading role in ensuring that all major stakeholders prioritise youth development and contribute towards identifying and implementing lasting solutions which addresses youth development within the MTSF 2019-2024 priorities. The Agency realised the importance of a streamlined, relevant and responsive youth development strategy that associates directly with broader South African development objectives, as encapsulated in the NDP 2030.

In response to MTSF 2019-2024, the NYDA will continue to prioritise, support the implementation of impactful and relevant youth development programmes. The outlook reports will be informed by legislative and strategic frameworks as informed by youth development priorities at global, regional, national, provincial and local level. The NYDA is expected to provide status of youth report on a 3-year cycle. The report has been finalised and endorsed of the Minister (DWPYD).

2.7 Young Women and Persons with Disabilities Lens

Through collaboration, partnerships with public private and civil society sectors, the NYDA will align to the entrepreneurship development programmes designed and act as a catalyst for growing young women, youth with disabilities owned and managed SMMEs and Co-operatives including New Entrants, to unlock full economic participation. To achieve this the NYDA must be the central hub to be the main source of proving disaggregated, evidence-based information, data and statistics.

In response to the MTSF 2019-2024 priorities, greater attention is needed to ensure that young women, youth with disabilities target groups gain direct access to financial and non-financial support, markets and this will be coupled with relevant skills needed to ensure they gain the most effective entrepreneurial applications within and across different areas of economic value chain. The youth sector must be considered as a nodal point to promote the creation jobs and ownership of enterprises that benefit young women and youth with disabilities. This would entail a greater focus on NYDA building its internal capacity to gain traction in driving programmes targeted at young women and persons with disabilities in rural areas and informal sectors.

2.8 Civil Society Lens

South African Youth Council (SAYC) is a voluntary civil society youth council that represents the interests and aspirations of its various affiliated organizations. It aims to mobilize youth organizations to ensure their participation in the broader societal affairs of the country. Its affiliates are drawn from political youth organizations and issue-based organizations. Its diverse membership gives it a competitive advantage in serving as the “voice of the youth” and unifying divergent views into a common agenda for youth development. South Africa’s concept of youth development is influenced by the historical conditions that have shaped the country and its democratic goals. It is based on the principles of social and economic justice, human rights, empowerment, participation, active citizenship, the promotion of public benefit, and distributive and liberal values. Youth development determines South Africa’s future and should be at the core of its development agenda.

The NYDA needs respond to the social and economic forces that shaped an aftermath and challenges facing young people. It must seek to align the development of young people with government’s approach in addressing poverty, inequality and unemployment, as diagnosed in the NDP 2030.

Disadvantaged youth must be empowered through effective institutions and policies to overcome conditions that disadvantage them. In the same manner, marginalized youth and those that have fallen out of the educational, social and economic mainstream must be re-integrated through second-chance measures and other supportive actions. This will require a multi-sectoral approach, involving stakeholders in the public sector, civil society and the private sector, with everyone working together to promote youth development and provide youth services.

2.9 National Youth Development Agency and the Department of Women, Youth and Persons with Disabilities Collaboration

NYDA and DWYPD have agreed on a shareholder’s compact – relationship mainly exists between the Youth Branch and NYDA. Youth Branch is responsible for Youth Policy while NYDA for Policy implementation. Youth Branch is invited to attend NYDA Strategic Sessions and Audit Committee meetings to provide input to the Annual Performance Plan and Five-Year Strategic Plan. DWYPD is responsible to share Policy information as it relates to all vulnerable groups so that such information can be used in the design of youth programs. NYDA works with many government Departments to scale up the implementation of youth programs. These programs cross youth entrepreneurship, jobs and skills development programs and National Youth Service programs.

The transformational agenda for women in South Africa is hindered and challenged by the violation of women’s rights, patriarchy and patriarchal practices in all its forms and manifestations, sex stereotyping and the gendered nature of women’s roles, responsibilities and work. All these elements continue to impede women’s full enjoyment of freedom. Critical to the success of national efforts to build a united, prosperous and a non-sexist society is to confront head-on the culture of toxic masculinity, misogyny, hierarchies and languages that permeates society at all levels. A critical challenge in debunking patriarchy has been the inadequate resourcing and budgetary allocations to the institutions and programmes that champion the gender agenda in the country over the past twenty-five years.

In addition, the lived experiences of women, young women and persons with disabilities reveal that laws on their own are not enough to create the requisite change. Structures within which cultures, customs, religion and the law operate need to change. In response to the MTSF 2019-2024 priorities, greater attention is needed to ensure that young women, youth with disabilities target groups gain direct access to financial and non-financial support, markets and this will be coupled with relevant skills needed to ensure they gain the most effective entrepreneurial applications within and across different areas of economic value chain.

The youth sector must be considered as a nodal point to promote the creation jobs and ownership of enterprises that benefit young women and youth with disabilities. This would entail a greater focus on NYDA building its internal capacity to gain traction in driving programmes targeted at young women and persons with disabilities in rural areas and informal sectors. Focus on areas that talk to mainstreaming of gender, youth, young women and youth with disabilities across government department and how to ensure gender responsive coordination happens through Planning, Budgeting, Monitoring, Evaluation and Auditing. This would also ensure that the NYDA is gender responsive in tie efforts of coordinating young development interventions and identify global strategic opportunities, ensure coordinated input, facilitate and support sustainable follow-up mechanisms.

The collaboration should be strengthened to ensure effective and efficient Machinery for coordination by:

- Ensuing that the NYDA and DWYPD jointly develop interventions to combating Gender Base Violence and Social ills that impact negatively on the youth.

- Ensuring Public participation activities are implemented that included all sectors (Women, Youth, persons with disabilities). This is guided by a Standard Operation of Practice Document which outlines the value chain on DWYPD Stakeholder Coordination.
- Identifying key joint priorities and plan collaboratively to implement related initiatives. Upscale existing programmes such as TECHNOGIRLS and initiate new programmes to improve the pass rate of girls studying mathematics, physical science and technology. Provide sanitary towels to indigent girls and women in schools and TVET colleges.
- Sharing good practices and expertise and to promote implementation of gender responsive programmes.
- Inter- Governmental Relations.
- National Youth Services Programmes.
- Integrated Youth Development Programmes.
- Institutionalise and implement a Youth Responsive Planning, Budgeting, Monitoring and Evaluation across government departments.
- Strengthen the National Youth Machinery through appointing youth focal points in government departments.

The NYDA continues to play a leading role in ensuring that all major stakeholders prioritise youth development and contribute towards identifying and implementing lasting solutions which addresses youth development within the MTSF 2019-2024 priorities. The Agency realise the importance of a streamlined, relevant and responsive youth development strategy that associates directly with broader South African development objectives, as encapsulated in the NDP 2030.

2.10 Economic Recovery Plan

The coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic has had severe global health, social, and economic impact on people and economies. To date, the science and statistics indicate that while the youth and children are not bearing the brunt of the COVID-19, measures to curb the spread of the virus, will impact the youth very severely. According to the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), 99% of the children and youth under 18 years worldwide (2.34 billion) is living in one of the 186 countries with some form of movement restrictions in place due to COVID-19. Sixty percent (60%) of all children live in one of the 82 countries with full (7%) or partial (53%) lockdown – accounting for 1.4 billion young lives.

The Presidential Employment Stimulus seeks to confront this impact directly, as part of government's broader economic recovery agenda. Its aim is to use direct public investment to support employment opportunities.

South Africa's Economic Reconstruction and Recovery Plan sets out a bold vision and immediate actions to enable an economic rebound and to build the economy of the future. It brings together the work of government departments, the Economic Recovery Action Plan agreed by social partners at NEDLAC and contributions from the Presidential Economic Advisory Council. The priority of the economic recovery strategy is to get the economy moving forward again in ways that enable new levels of dynamism, creating decent work and allowing people and communities to thrive. While the economic recovery takes root, however, we need to expand public employment and other measures that retain existing jobs, support livelihoods and provide economic opportunities, in a context in which markets will take time to replace the jobs that are lost.

If left unaddressed, the impact of the COVID-19 on the youth will perpetuate socio-economic problems of the youth, and ultimately undermine development prospects for South Africa. The youth should be at the centre of the post-COVID-19 recovery plans. Sectors like tourism, agribusiness, information and communication technology and other services show potential for large scale productivity growth and job creation.

Young people are already stepping up as entrepreneurs in these sectors. They need access to capital to start and grow businesses. Innovative financial and loan instruments which move beyond the current predominant asset-based collateral requirements for access to finance are needed. Young people should also be given other business-related support from both the public and private sectors.

2.11 Rural development and land reform for young people

NYDA is trying to have close working relationships with provincial departments of agriculture. NYDA is willing to work with local municipalities to provide the funding for young people to access agricultural programmes in those rural areas. The Land Bank and the Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries. should work in a coordinated way and deeply understand the needs of young Agro-entrepreneurs. They need to create a fund that is dispersed by the NYDA for example, a Youth Agro-fund marketed under NYDA- funded by Land Bank and DAFF.

Young people must be attracted, recruited and retained to pursue careers in the agriculture sector value chain (e.g. as crop scientists, livestock managers, agricultural engineers, agricultural technologists, veterinary scientists, veterinarians, veterinary technicians) including providing scholarships (to study locally and abroad) and ensuring their placement in internships/ jobs upon graduation. The Department of Higher Education, Science and Innovation and Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries should promote development of post-school curriculum provided through TVET's to train young people in skills relevant to agriculture and the agricultural value chain as a strategy to attract young people to the sector and promote agriculture and Agro-processing. There is need to attract, recruit and train and ensuring their mentorship and placement in internships/ jobs upon graduation.

The private sector must be mobilised to complement government's funding in support of land acquisition primarily for agricultural purposes. Young agricultural entrepreneurs must also be supported and twinned with established farmers for mentorship. The NYDA, working with the Department of Small Business Development (DSBD), needs to facilitate the creation of ecotourism facilities and services in rural areas owned by young people. The Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development should help young people access land. Young people should participate in a programme led by provincial departments of land reform whereby district municipalities that own commercial farming land identify 20 percent of the commercial agricultural land in their districts to be used for commercial activities (land already in the market, land where the farmer is under severe financial pressure, land held by an absentee landlord willing to exit and land in a deceased estate).

Young people living in rural areas often struggle to participate in the economy due to a lack of access to or availability of land, and poor economic and social infrastructure. They are also confronted with dualism in the rural economy – food security at a national level is controlled by white-dominated, large-scale commercial farming, and subsistence farming is largely Black-dominated and smaller scale. As a result, a traditional approach to rural development and improving farm incomes, by supporting forms of agro-processing, cannot be undertaken, because the country has a highly centralised, vertically integrated, Agro-processing sector in relation to every key staple, and these value chains tend to exclude small/new/Black producers. Rural development strategies also need to consider the lack of homogeneity in rural areas throughout the country.

2.12 Implications of Covid-19 on budget and mandate of NYDA

The measures put in place by the National Government of South Africa to manage the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the country, have a significant impact on how the NYDA will continue to successfully carry out its mandate. Few of these implications are:

- Effectiveness of manual internal processes to service the youth and all other stakeholders, with officials having to follow Divisional rotation schedules from time to time in limiting the number of people in our offices at any given time
- Negative impact on Government financing, which might result in additional reduction of the Agency's operating Grant allocation
- The negative economic growth brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic has led to increasing levels of youth unemployment and impacted young entrepreneurs

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the NYDA intends to be more innovative in the use of technology and development of a system, to address how some of the key activities and targets set out in the Annual Performance Plan will be implemented, especially those that require physical interaction, public participation and access to the Agency's offices and officials. The Agency has also developed interventions to support Youth-Owned Enterprises / SMMEs affected by the COVID-19 pandemic especially those based in the marginalised areas, our work on the youth employment intervention continues. In addition, processes and procedures are in place to ensure consistent availability and accessibility of the Agency's products and services while ensuring the safety and health of our valued officials.

3. Updated Situational Analysis

3.1 External Environment Analysis

3.1.1 Political, Economic, Social, Technological, Environment, Legal (PESTEL) Analysis

The strategic options mentioned above will need to be implemented within an environment that has challenges affected by external factors. To obtain reasonable comprehension of what these external factors will be in which NYDA operates, a combination of key factors that shape the macro environment were considered. The PESTEL model was used to provide an analysis of the external factors and their impact on the NYDA against the strategic options. These are critical factors considered and factored into the design and development of the NYDA strategy and annual performance plan.

The diagram below articulates the PESTEL analysis

Political Factors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Government departments have been reduced and reconfigured to create a more streamlined approach. • High Unemployment rate now is the focus of government. • New government priorities confirmed. • Trust in government is not exceptionally high. • South Africa, like other countries also suffers from identity politics. • Young people did not vote in high numbers. • Policies of government not youth centric. 	Economic Factors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Unemployment rate for young people is over 50% • New government priorities to focus on growth and expansion of the economy. • Focus should be on unemployment and entrepreneurship. • Presidential Job summit has committed to 2 million Jobs for unemployed youth in the next 10 years. • Smart cities to stimulate economic growth • Poor economic growth will have a negative impact on the NYDA's planned commitments. • Limited resource allocation by public and private sector on youth programmes. • South Africa has not been growing for a prolonged period. • A constrained energy supply and high levels of debt at Eskom do not create a conducive environment for economic growth. • State spending is under pressure with government debt approaching 80% of GDP. • Many large listed companies are announcing retrenchments of staff. • Resource limitations and multiple challenges show that the state is stretched in achieving its ambitious goals. • South African township youth are not responding to the full potential of business opportunities in their own communities. • Youth not widely active in self-employed activities or informally employed in micro-enterprises.
Social Factors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Increasing poverty levels and inequalities. • High drug use among Africans and coloured youth. • Spatial inequality and injustice have not been addressed. • South Africa faces many social challenges including high incidences of rape and violence against women, drug and substance abuse, crime and corruption. • Racism remains prevalent and violence against and by foreign nationals occurs sporadically. • The pace of transformation often remains painfully slow. 	Technological Factors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Cybersecurity threats from new technologies • Lack of integrated digital platforms for youth development programmes in the sector • High cost of data and infrastructure limits economic participation of young people • Lack of integrated youth development strategy and programmes on the 4IR.
Environmental Factors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Climate change has crippled SA and drought conditions affecting food security. • Less rainfall year-on year has resulted in lack of water security and increased drought. • Globally the world is growing, poverty and unemployment are at all-time lows. • Inequality is increasing, and this has made capitalism and its model a focus. • There also seems to be a shift from the centre to the left to counter right wing populism. • Climate change has become a huge issue globally. • The World Economic Forum has proclaimed us as being in the advent of the Fourth Industrial Revolution. 	Legal Factors <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Changing Government legislation against government wide priorities and plans might take too long. • The NYDA Act review, NYP 2030 and IYDS 2025

3.1.2 Strength, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats (SWOT) Analysis

The NYDA as an organisation is currently faced with challenges, some of which are beyond its control. These challenges have the potential of restricting its effectiveness, achieving optimal performance in the execution of its mandate and reaching its targeted goals. The SWOT analysis was used to provide an analysis on internal capabilities against strategic options mentioned above. It provides the NYDA with an understanding of its strengths, weaknesses, threats and opportunities that it can leverage on in achieving these strategic options. The weaknesses and threats present the NYDA with a chance to turn these into strategic opportunities. Equally opportunities and weaknesses can be strengthened to impact on NYDA's future performance.

The diagram below articulates the SWOT analysis for the 2021-2022 APP period

Strengths <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • NYDA Accessible to the youth. • Established through an ACT of parliament. • Youth products and services accessible through Full-Service Branches across all 9 Provinces and district municipalities that are operationalized. • Coordinating and Integrating Youth work in the sector. • Custodian of Youth Development in the country • 5 clean audits in succession. • Minimal budget allocated used effectively and efficiently. • Clear mission and vision, being driven by a young board. 	Weaknesses <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Inadequate digital marketing of products and service. • Inadequate funding for NYDA programmes. • Inadequate resource and budget allocation for implementing youth programmes in the sector. • Implementing programmes that are overlapping with other institution. • Lack of adequate utilization of technology considering the new technological digital trends (Fourth Industrial Revolution, 4IR). • Inadequate collaboration with the private sector and other relevant organisation.
Opportunities <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Volunteer policy to regulate services components of the National Youth Service. • Introduce on-line access to our products and services. • Respond to high rate of unemployment by increasing demand for our offerings. • Effective use of customer feedback. • Increase non-formal education approach through technology. • Workspace is changing rapidly for young people millennials opt for an informal approach. • Focusing on sectors and capitalize on available funding through private, public partnerships. • Strong mining and manufacturing sector that contribute largely to the GDP. 	Threats <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No integrated government business case for increased funding on youth development programs. • Lack of coordinated research on youth needs. • Slow impact on mainstreaming of youth development. • NYDA not implementing its full mandate. • Lack of integrated monitoring and evaluation impact on youth sector progress.

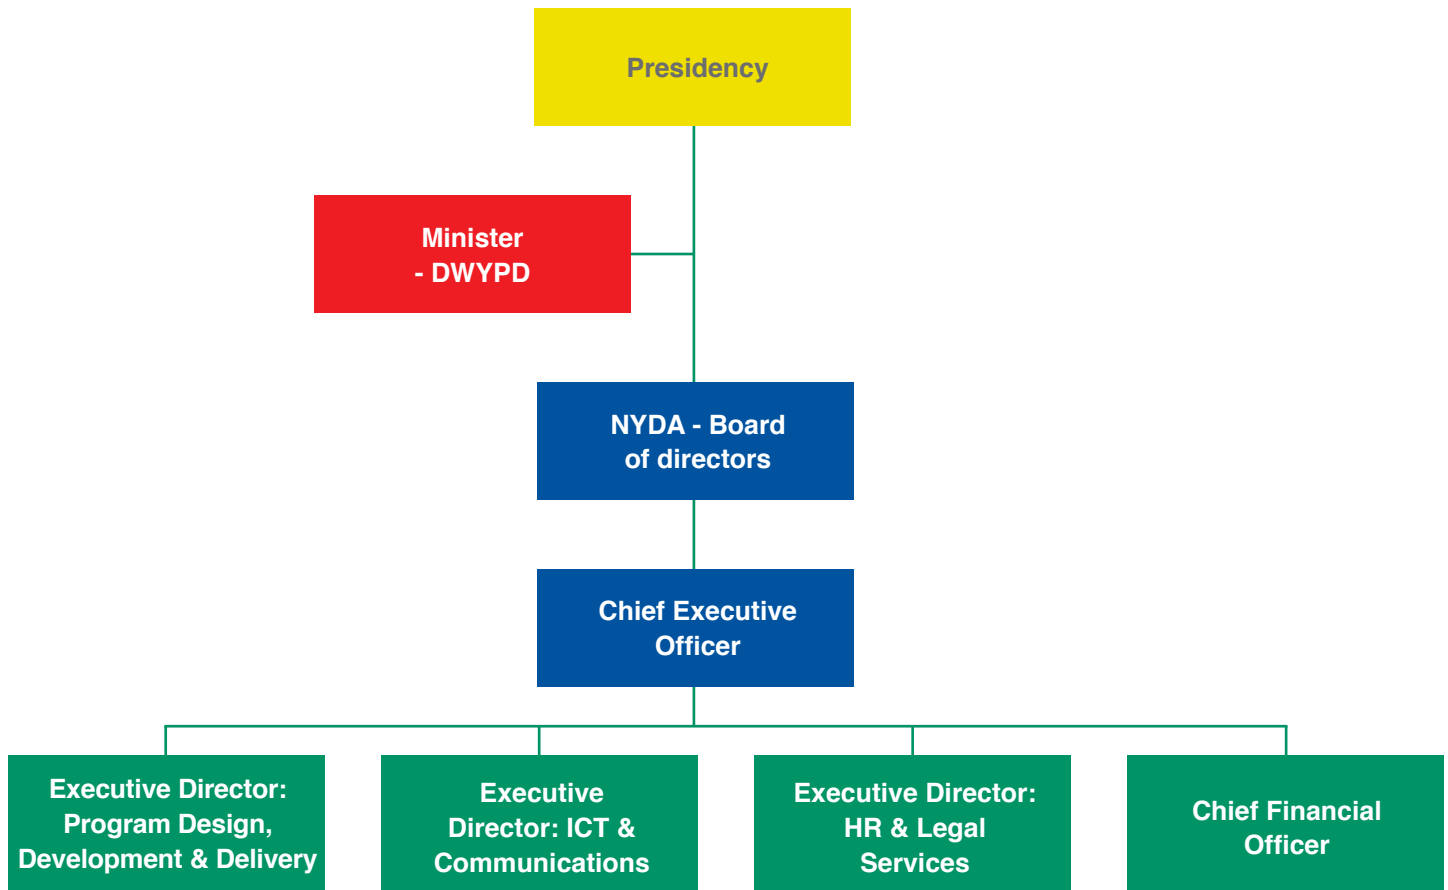

4. Internal Environment Analysis

4.1. NYDA Organisational Structure

The organizational structure was revised and approved in the financial year 2020 by the Executive Management of the NYDA to ensure that it delivers on its key strategic goals and objectives, as well as to ensure stability to achieve alignment between the new strategic direction and the organizational structure. The National Youth Development Agency (NYDA) embarked on the realignment of its structure in 2020 to review and redesign its delivery model to ensure that it has adequate capacity to deliver on its strategic priorities and to take its mandate forward. This project formed the basis of diagnosing where and how the organization needed to focus, in reorganizing the organization, processes and people. The current organizational structure is not responsive to mainstreaming and delivering the full mandate as per the NYDA Act.

Below diagram illustrates the NYDA Organisational Structure

4.2 Problem Tree Analysis

The problem tree aims to address challenges faced by young people. By implementing the NYDA mandate, of a coordinating body on youth development matters it will be able to action the possible solutions. The targets have been set through the MTSF indicators relate to entrepreneurship, job placement and National Youth Service. The related interventions aim to respond to various challenges that hinder young people from participating in the mainstream economy.

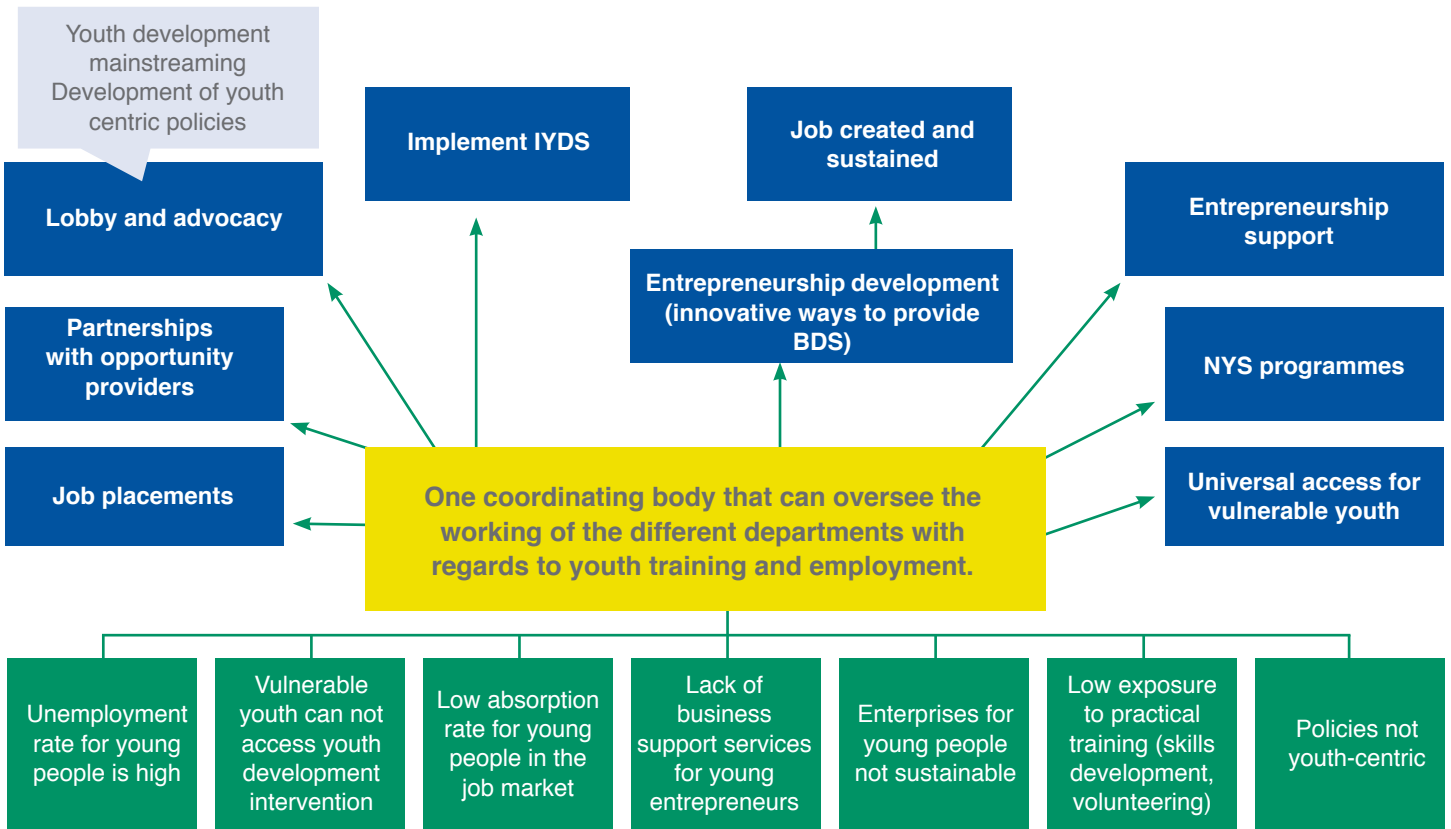

The problems that NYDA must resolve are informed by both external and internal factors. The NYDA must therefore work towards interventions that can address the following challenges:

- High unemployment rate.
- Low absorption of young people in the job market.
- Vulnerable youth cannot access youth development interventions.
- Lack of universal access to business support services.
- Enterprises for young people are not sustainable.
- Lack of or minimal exposure to practical professional training.

The Problem tree's analysis helps stakeholders to establish a realist overview and awareness of the challenges by identifying causes and effects of the problem they are trying to solve. The Problem Tree as illustrated below provides the hierarchy of these cause and effects of problems and challenges that the NYDA needs to address.

Below is an illustration of the Problem and Solution Tree for NYDA

PROBLEM TREE

GRAPHIC 2

The diagram above also indicates that the NYDA as a coordinating body can influence mainstreaming of youth development into the economy to improve their livelihoods. This can be achieved through the following possible solutions:

- Implementing the Integrated Youth Development Strategy.
- Guiding programme initiation and design to ensure that programmes respond directly to the KPIs to meet the intended impact.
- Intensify the coordinating role of the NYDA to ensure that youth development programmes are correctly implemented.
- Lobby and advocate for youth development, get buy in from stakeholders, motivate for the mainstreaming of youth development and develop policies that are youth centric.
- Assist and monitor implementers to deliver correct training that will benefit young people to participate in the mainstream economy.

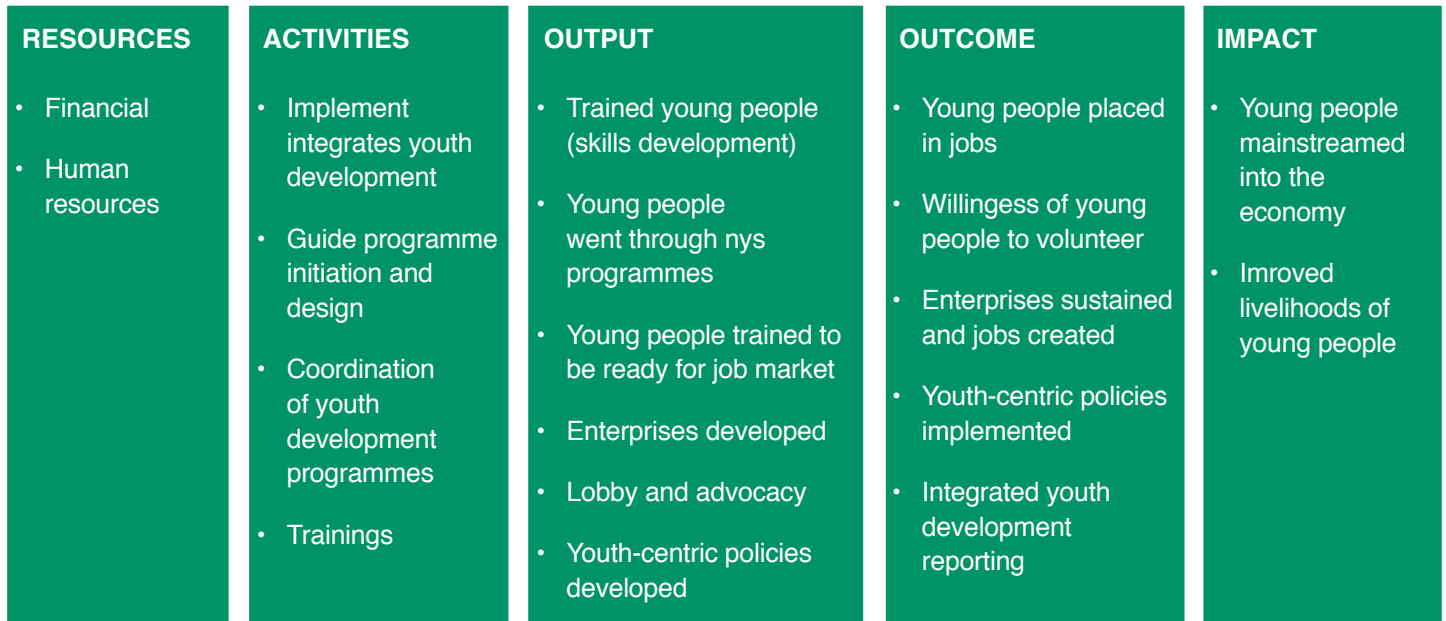

4.3 Results Chain

The log frame approach is used in monitoring and evaluation which must be applied at all levels of the NYDA business processes. This will help to address the inter-related measures of input, process, output, outcome and impact.

The results chain of the NYDA as illustrated in the picture below shows the logic framework that defines the process, which is a five-year view of the impact statement. This implies that in the next five years the NYDA must implement programmes that mainstream young people in the economy and improve their livelihoods. On an annual basis, the NYDA will achieve outputs that will build up to outcomes in three years' time, as reflected below:

Below is the Proposed Results Chain for the NYDA

RESULTS CHAIN

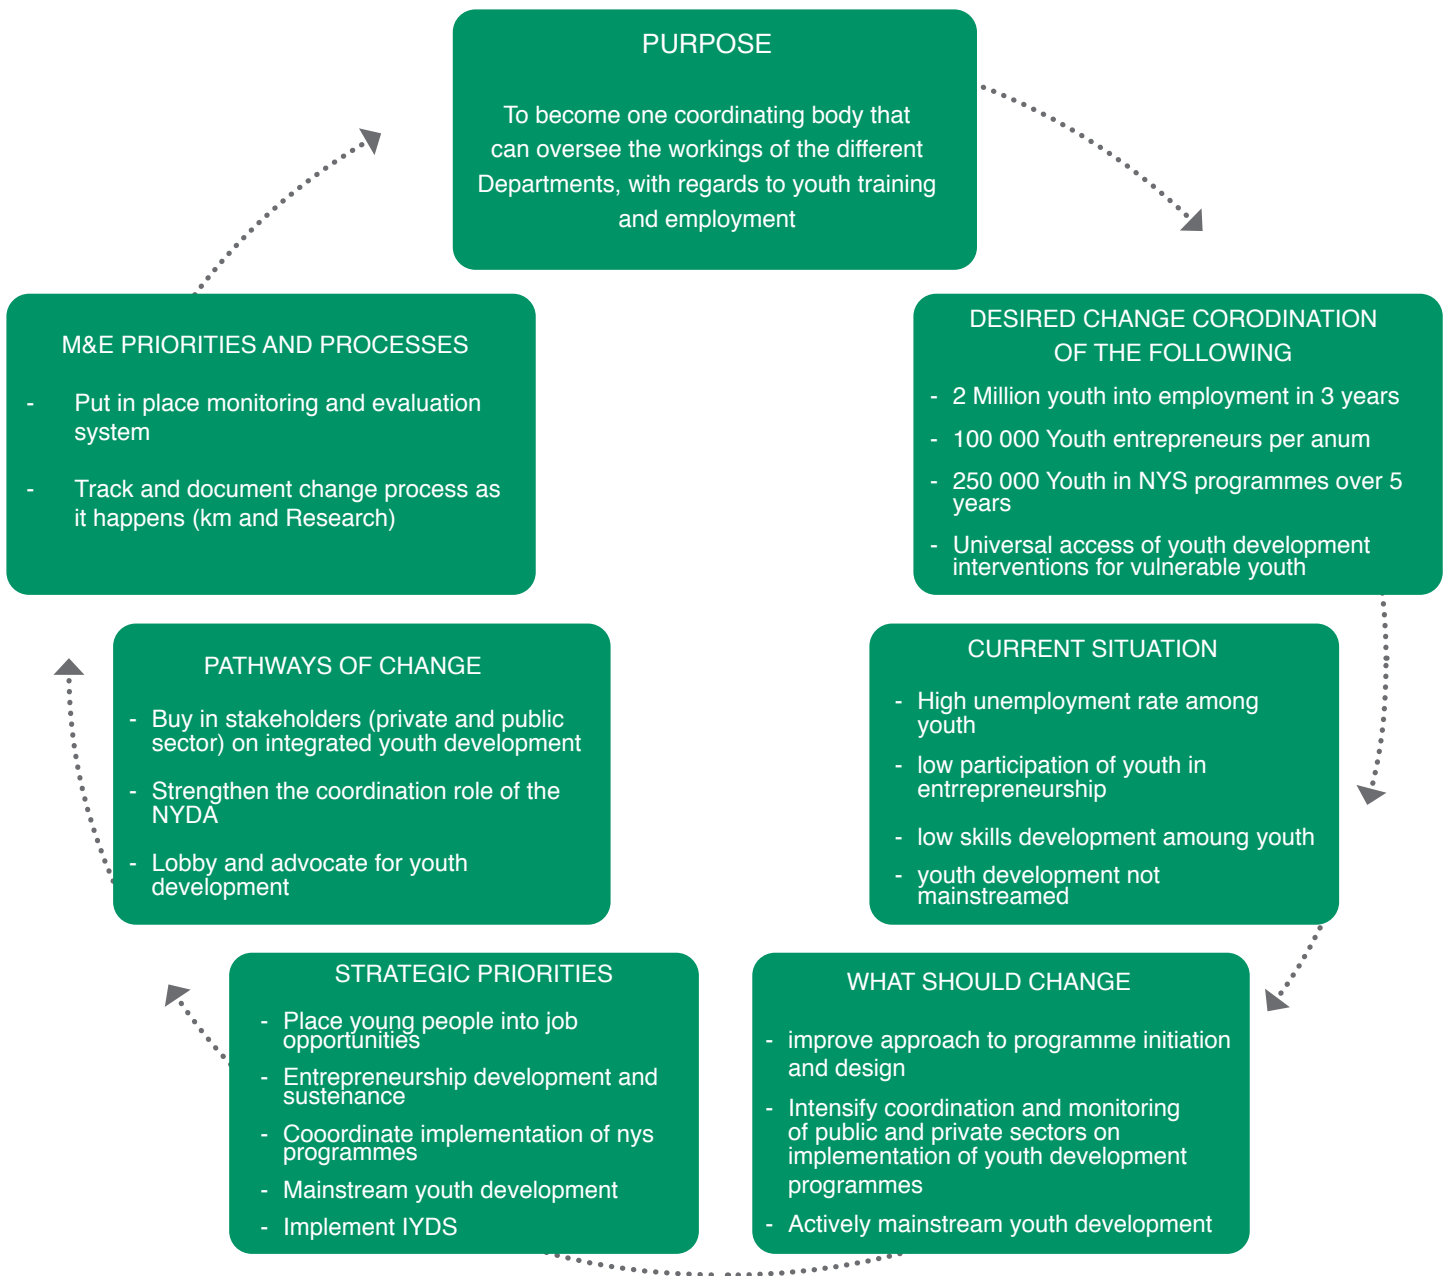

Creating and promoting coordination in youth development matters monitoring and evaluation

GRAPHIC 3

4.4 Theory of Change

The theory of change defines what the NYDA must do to bring change that will impact livelihoods of young people and mainstream youth development. The process of engaging how the change must look like requires NYDA to re-define its purpose of existence, the desired or envisaged change against the current situation of young people, focusing on what needs to be improved to define strategic priorities which will inform the pathways of change and how these should be monitored and evaluated after implementation. To move from the current situation to meet NYDA's mandate and outcomes, the following theory of change is proposed.

Theory of change illustrated above provides a possible way forward given the emerging developments and changes in the youth sector. The process helps us to navigate unpredictable and complex process when implementing the emerging changes. Applying the Theory of Change will lead NYDA to a solution-based thinking in overcoming emerging changes.

4.5 Spheres of influence on the desired change

The spheres of influence determine what it is that the NYDA can control to achieve the desired change. The NYDA will operate within different spheres of influence which includes:

- Sphere of Control: Where the NYDA has full control of what it desires to change, it can influence joint planning through stakeholder engagements. It must establish outcome indicators within the sphere of control.

- Sphere of Influence: Is out of NYDA's control but can influence the desired changes through standardization of youth work in the sector, promote better collaboration, develop norms, standards and a segmented youth cohort approach to increase access of products and services
- Sphere of Interest: Is out of the NYDA's control but can influence development of content for legislation, create awareness, lobby and advocate for youth development.

The picture depicted below provides a description of the spheres and its relationship to the results chain

DEVELOP KPIS USING THREE SPHERES

4.6 Monitoring and Evaluation

The Monitoring and Evaluation framework provides an over-arching guide on all monitoring and evaluation process as guided by the NYDA mandate. It aims to knit together areas that are key in creating an enabling environment for effective and efficient monitoring and evaluation of NYDA and its partners' efforts, in relation to:

- Planning: NYDA strategy development, Programmes and Services planning and formulation, target setting and defining expected outputs, outcomes and impact.
- Implementation: Business processes used in the delivery of services, these include project management, continuous quality improvements, efficient and effective approaches, adherence to guidelines and procedures, risk assessments and mitigation and supportive supervision.
- Reporting: Systematic reporting on inputs, outputs, outcomes and impact and providing continuous feedback for improvements and lessons learnt on products and services.

iv. Knowledge Management: The strategies and processes of identifying, capturing, and leveraging knowledge to enhance competitiveness. Knowledge Management comprises a range of practices used by the NYDA to identify, create, represent, and distribute knowledge for reuse, awareness and learning. Knowledge Management at NYDA seeks to tie organisational objectives and achieved specific outcomes to shared intelligence, improved performance, competitive advantage, or higher levels of innovation within the NYDA's programmes. The framework allows the NYDA to align all its interventions to outcomes and impact as well as to track organisational performance against these. In this way, the M&E framework provides a multilevel, organisational mechanism to answer a bottom-line question: Is the organisation making a difference in the following areas?

- Achieving improved livelihoods for young people in South Africa.
- Promoting self-reliance for targeted youth.
- Enhancing economic and social growth in targeted communities.

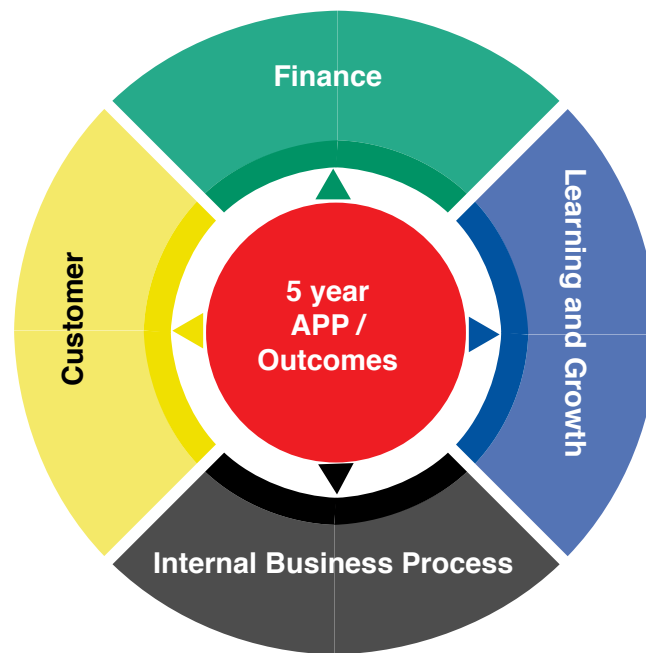

4.7 Balance Score Card

The Balanced Scorecard (BSC) is a strategic planning and management system that organizations use to:

- Communicate what they are trying to accomplish.
- Align the day-to-day work that everyone is doing with strategy.
- Prioritize projects, products and services.
- Measure and monitor progress towards the achievement of the strategic targets.

The system connects the dots between big picture strategy elements such as mission, vision, core values, strategic focus areas and the more operational elements such as objectives, measures or outcome indicators and output indicators which track strategic performance, targets which are the desired level of performance and initiatives. The signed off and approved Strategic Plan and Annual Performance Plan of the NYDA forms the basis of the MoU between the National Youth Development Agency and its Executive Authority, the Department of Women, Youth and Persons with Disabilities.

Below is a graphic that illustrates the NYDA Balance Score Card perspectives

The above model reflects the approach that the NYDA will adopt in institutionalising Performance Management System. It will reflect the following perspectives:

- Finance: Cost savings and efficiencies.
- Customer: Customer service, satisfaction and brand awareness.
- Internal Business process: Process improvements and technology utilization
- Learning and Growth: Human capital, skills, talent and knowledge

4.8 Activity Based Costing

The Annual Performance Plan will reflect funded service-delivery targets or projections per Strategic Output. The budget indicates the resource envelope for the 5-year ahead and sets indicative future budgets over the MTEF period. The budget covers the current financial year and the following two years. The accounting authority of the agency may revise the budget whenever necessary.

The Strategic budget is developed within the framework of the Strategic Plan and must inform its Annual Performance Plan. In-year implementation and monitoring of the budget is conducted through the monthly financial reports, while end-year reporting is made through annual financial statements, which are included in the annual report.

5. Budget Overview of 2021/22 and MTEF estimates

5.1. Expenditure analysis

The National Youth Development Agency planned performance over the MTEF period is focused on providing a comprehensive suite of interventions that leads to decent employment, skills development, education, and entrepreneurship for all young people in the age group 14 to 35. These outcome areas focus on fostering a mainstreamed, evidence based, integrated and result oriented youth development approach, through and monitoring and evaluation services, lobby and advocacy to bring on board key stakeholders to implement youth development programmes.

The NYDA will implement and coordinate interventions aligned to the MTSF Priorities and reviewed Policy 2030. This will enable NYDA to achieve collaboration by promoting co-ordination of youth development matters in South Africa.

The Agency will receive an allocation of R478 million from National Treasury and expects to raise R7 million in donor funding from 2021 / 2022. The allocation from NT is reduced by 7% from original allocations as the long-term effects of the Covid-19 pandemic become apparent. The allocation will be utilised to implement the following programmes:

6.5. Programme Resource Considerations

Administration

The administration program houses the NYDA Financial Services, Communications, Human Resources, Information, Communication and Technology units. Operational costs have been stripped reducing this budget by close to 26 percent over the last MTEF. The entity has largely run out of runway to further reduce operational costs, unless restructuring or rationalisation is implemented. The operational cost will increase by 4.5 percent on average over the MTEF period. Prior to Covid-19 the NYDA compensation line item was at 36 percent of total allocations. This while may be being perceived as high, is within the general government wage bill spend. The costing rose to 42 percent given the impact of the supplementary budget adjustments. The NYDA also does not make use of consultants and has not done so for the past five financial years. The Agency has reviewed its structure and frozen all positions that are not critical to the delivery of its mandate. The entity forecasts its headcount to 462. Salary increments for management and above has been frozen due to the Covid-19 pandemic, while increments for general staff has been referred to the Bargaining Forum. The Agency will continue to implement cost-cutting measures especially on travel and outreach activities. The NYDA does not intend to establish any new access points but will scale through technology and innovation efforts primarily the SA Youth site which has been established in collaboration with the Presidency and Harambee Youth Employment Accelerator.

6.6. Explanation of planned performance over the medium-term period

The planned performance over the medium-term period for the Administration Programme will focus on implementing internal and operational programmes to address the MTSF outcome related to an efficient and effective Agency characterized by good corporate governance and ethical leadership. The Agency will develop and implement its Annual Workplace Skills Plan which will be submitted to PSeta with the training plan as it is critical to enabling the NYDA to produce in house skills that will promote youth development delivery. This is also in line with the Agency to ensure that officials are well capacitated and use available technology platforms by developing the ICT Plan which will support business to operate efficiently. The main goal of the outcomes in this focus area is to achieve efficient and effective utilisation of resources, provision of functions, governance, human capital, produce annual report on partnerships established with Disability organisations to promote youth development and establishing stakeholder relations with our partners which is key for the NYDA to achieve its mandate. The strategy incorporates formal training on the job training and skills development of employees to ensure highly skilled and efficient employees. These interventions are targeted at youth which aligns to the achievement of priorities of women and people with disabilities.

7. Programme 2: Programme Design, Development and Delivery (PDDD)

7.1. Purpose of the Programme:

- The purpose of the programme is to enhance the participation of young people in the economy through targeted and integrated economic programmes, including skills and education programmes, and national youth services.

7.1.1. Sub-Programme 1: Economic Development through Youth Entrepreneurship

7.1.2. Purpose of the Sub-Programme

- Facilitating and providing business development services to young people and to enhance their socio-economic well-being

7.1.3. Outcomes, outputs, output indicators and targets

3.	Number of jobs created and sustained through supporting entrepreneurs and enterprises	Quarterly	5000	2500	2500	2500	2500

7.1.5. Sub-Programme Resource Considerations

Spending in this programme is expected to increase from R240 million in 2020/21 to R242 million in 2021/22, with the agency targeting 22 000 enterprises in 2021/22. The programme costs will see an average increase of 4.8 percent over the MTEF period. Through the economic participation programme, the Agency continues to provide support services to ensure that youth gain direct access to financial and non-financial support, markets access and this relevant skill needed to ensure they gain the most effective entrepreneurial applications within and across different areas of economic value chains. Support to be provided include accounting, website development, business plan writing and marketing to enterprises run by youth. NYDA financial support is provided through micro grants to township and rural enterprises. Demand far exceeds supply for the programme; however, it is one of the only government programs where township and rural youth can access financial support. The NYDA will rely on donor funding from Provincial Government, the Department of Small Business Development and the Presidential Youth Employment Intervention to scale particularly the grant program.

7.2. Sub-Programme 2: Decent Employment through Jobs Programme

7.2.1. Purpose of the Sub-Programme

- To facilitate and provide employment opportunities for young people, geared at increasing sustainable livelihoods.

The NYDA relies on raising donor funding mainly from the Sector, Education and Training Authorities to scale the jobs program initiatives. The NYDA has been requested by the Presidency to not establish any new infrastructure points. 7.2.5. Explanation of Planned Performance over the Medium-Term Period

The planned performance over the medium-term period for Programme Design, Development and Delivery enhance the participation of young people in the economy through targeted and integrated programmes. Programmes implemented by the NYDA aim to facilitate and provide employment opportunities for young people, enhance the participation of young people in the economy, geared at increasing job creation, entrepreneurship participation and to provide business support to young people. The planned performance is also aimed at facilitating and providing skills development opportunities to young people and to enhance their socio-economic well-being, with the objective of facilitating education opportunities and community participation activism. Due to limited socio-economic opportunities and viable opportunities for young people.

There is limited support for young people to participate in the economy. Thus, financial and non-financial support is provided for enterprises in order address those challenges facing young people. Young people apparently in rural areas have limited access to information on youth development so by increasing the number of activities on information dissemination around issues of youth development we aim to close those gaps. Number of young people are unable to access the job market due to limited skills and this intervention provides training to young people to enable them to participate in the economy and enter the job market. These interventions are targeted at youth which aligns to the achievement of priorities of women and people with disabilities.

The NYDA will focus on coordination and pilot scale implement with the receipt of donor funding. It will also require budgetary support from the Presidential Youth Employment Intervention.

7.3.5. Explanation of planned performance over the medium-term period

The planned performance over the medium-term period for National Youth Service is aimed at engaging young people in service to their communities to build the spirit of patriotism, solidarity, social cohesion and unity in diversity. Young people have limited opportunities to participate in nation building activities, so the National Youth Service Programme engage in awareness campaigns to build awareness, register projects that meet the National Youth Service compliance criteria and coordinate partners who are implementing National Youth Service projects. The uptake and coordination of opportunities for young people requires that National Youth Service build sustainable relationships, and this will help in mobilising resources to implement National Youth Service. Higher Education presents a huge opportunity for young people to use their skills to build this country. These interventions are targeted at youth which aligns to the achievement of priorities of women and people with disabilities.

The Revised Framework for Strategic and Annual Performance Plans provides that “A Strategic Plan may be changed during the five-year period that it covers”.
